FAMILIES ASKED SECRET BURIALS

During the past two weeks two bodies of returned World War II heroes were placed in graves at the National cemetery here without the presence of relative or friend to mark their interment.

There was no newspaper publicity detailing the hour of their death and the two were lowered into their graves with only members of the armed force and the park service plus a stray visitor or two to view the ceremony.

The secrecy was enjoined by the next of kin and the War Department cooperated to spare the survivors added suffering. When the bodies were first scheduled to be returned, the families planned to be present. Then, perhaps illness struck, or for some other reason, the next of kin could not be present. They asked then of the War Department that no publicity be given as to when the bodies were to be buried and that no telegram be sent them stating the hour of the interment. It would be too painful, they felt, to contemplate ahead of time the idea that at such and such an hour a son or husband was being buried when they could not be present.

The War department agreed and the first notification the families received of the interment was a brief telegram by Superintendent Alvan C. Baker stating the time the two men were buried—after the commitment services were held.

Russians Blockade Freight Shipments To Berlin Today

Berlin, June 12 (P)—The Russians and British have reached an agreement for the resumption of freight traffic between western Germany and Berlin, an official British source said today.

By RICHARD KASISCHKE
Berlin, June 12 (P)—The Russians blocked all food and coal shipments by rail to the 2,000,000 Germans and 25,000 Americans, Britons and French in the western sectors of Berlin today.

U. S. and British officials said it was too early to say whether the order, in effect since last night, was aimed at driving the western powers out of the city, or was just another manifestation of Soviet red tape aimed at making travel more difficult.

Many in the western sectors viewed the move as the newest phase of the battle of Berlin. If the stoppage is permanent, it will be much more serious than the Soviet restrictive measures in Berlin which raised an east-west crisis last April. The Allies circumvented that crisis by flying in passengers and supplies, but it would be impossible to fly in enough supplies to meet the needs

LD PEEKABOO LETTERDROP" O BE REPLACED

Washington, June 12, (AP)—The old-fashioned peekaboo letterdrop, a real joy of small-town Americans, on its way out. In its stead is being a strictly modern device that is half the fun out of mailing letter.

This wouldn't have happened if Herbert Stanley Underwood hadn't ditched the Herkimer, N. Y., post-office some weeks ago. Underwood is chief architect for the Public Buildings Administration, which designs and builds federal buildings, including postoffices. He is a reporter this description of it went on at Herkimer:

"The mail had just arrived, and clerks had started to sort it. Any townspeople were waiting to get the mail from their boxes. Everyone seemed to know everyone else. They seemed to know the clerk, too. For one man after another would step up to the letterbox, push back the flap, peek through, recognize the pants of the clerk and say:

"Hey, Joe, give me my mail — I'm in a hurry."

"I never imagined the letterdrop could be put to such a use," Underwood said in amazement.

Underwood also noted that people with letters to drop were not content merely to drop them through the slot.

No, indeed, he said. They would shove them through with such force he letters would overshoot the mail receptacle and land on the floor.

"Handing mail to impatient customers and picking letters off the floor were time-wasting nuisances to the clerks," said Underwood.

So back in Washington, Underwood designed a letterdrop so cunningly beveled on the inside as to cut off the view entirely.

And no letter can overshoot the mail box, no matter how hard it is popped into the slot. Each letter just slides upward over the beveled surface, kerplunk into the container.

You'll find no peek letterdrops in all new postoffices, and Underwood said they'll gradually replace the old slots in the other buildings.

The Herkimer letterdrop? It's still there, but the clerks have covered it with canvas—to prevent peeping and to keep letters from sailing through the air.

Fresh Snarl Today In Coal Dispute

Washington, June 12 (AP)—The pensions-for-coal miners dispute faced a fresh snarl today as two trustees of the miners welfare fund voted to start payments while the third threatened a lawsuit if they did.

Operators' trustee Ezra Van Horn raised the threat of a second court action after John L. Lewis, representing the miners, and neutral trustee Senator Bridges (R-N.H.) voted yesterday to begin splitting the $40,000,000 which has piled up under the 1947 contract.

Van Horn already has asked for an injunction to bar pension payments from the fund under the plan agreed to previously by Lewis and Bridges. That would provide $100 a month for all members of the United Mine Workers who were 62 years old and had 20 years' service in the mines.

The operators' trustee claimed that would violate the Taft-Hartley act, since it would include some union members whose employers are not contributing the 10-cent-a-ton coal royalty from which the fund has accumulated.

Law Blamed For Threatened Strike

Washington, June 12 (AP)—Presidential inquiry board today blamed the Taft-Hartley law for the deadlock which threatens the entire U.S. Merchant Marine with a strike next Tuesday.

In a report to the White House the five-man board said maritime employers and unions want to continue their traditional hiring hall system but the employers consider that the new labor law makes it illegal.

The board, headed by Harry Shulman of Yale University Law School, spoke of an all-coast shipping walk-out as inevitable unless barred by court order.

President Truman is expected to order the justice department to apply for a Taft-Hartley injunction against the strike, which would stall the nation's foreign relief program.

An injunction is the next step under the Taft-Hartley act's procedure for handling national emergency labor disputes once an inquiry board has done its fact-finding job.

200 BELIEVED LOST ON SHIP

Aalborg, Denmark, June 12 (AP)—Some 200 persons were believed today to have drowned in the sinking of the passenger steamer Kjoebenhavn. A check was being made to find out the exact number.

The 1,668-ton vessel hit a war mine and went down in 10 minutes early yesterday in the Kattegat near the end of a trip from Copenhagen to this port 140 miles to the northwest.

The United Steamship Company (D. F. D. S.) of Copenhagen, which owned her, listed 261 survivors — passenger and crew, many suffering from severe wounds or exposure. Some of those rescued later died.

How many others were aboard was not known. There first were believed to have been 400, but later indications were that about 450 was more likely.

Last night police here officially listed 28 persons as missing, including Frederik Graae, 73, a high government official.

Most of the passengers were asleep when the impact came. Many were trapped in their cabins. Their screams could be heard. Others jumped overboard, parents with children in arms, or clung to the Kjoebenhavn's superstructure until help came.

TEST VOTE IN FRANCE TODAY

Paris, June 12 (AP)—Premier Robert Schuman's government may ask today for a formal vote of confidence in its foreign policy, criticized by both Communists and De Gaulists.

Informed sources so indicated as the National Assembly prepared to resume debate this afternoon on whether to approve a six-nation agreement on western Germany.

The vote on the agreement is set for Tuesday. Most political observers say they think a slim favorable majority is probable. Any test of confidence would be put to a vote the same day.

The debate began yesterday. In a speech received coolly by most deputies, Foreign Minister Georges Bidault defended the six-nation plan, worked out in a London conference recently ended.

The accord was reached by representatives of France, the United States, Great Britain, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg. It was made subject to approval by home governments.

Burn Large Cross Near Negro's Home

Wall Township, N. J., June 12 (AP)—A 12-foot cross was burned last night outside the home of a negro radio engineer who had moved into an all-white neighborhood.

State police said they were warning his neighbors to stay off the man's property.

State Police Sgt. Joseph J. McCormack said the cross was burned on the property of Hutson Leroy in the Glendola section of the township after the negro family had received several threatening telephone calls.

Leroy moved here Wednesday with his wife and eight-month-old daughter to be close to his place of employment at the Evans Signal laboratories here. He previously had commuted 58 miles daily from his home in the Bronx.

BOSTON BRAVES TAKE LEAD IN NATIONAL LOOP

(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Long-suffering Boston fans have no winners to cheer today — the last place Braves and Ted Williams of the Red Sox.

Billy Southworth's Braves, a pre-season pennant pick of many experts, nally edged into the lead in the tough-and-tumble national league scramble by downing St. Louis last night, 7-3.

Williams puffed his batting average to .395 by driving in seven runs in the Red Sox' 12-4 romp over the Chicago White Sox. Even at this early date, it is not difficult to picture a 400 season for the slim slugger.

Almost left at the post in the first week of the season, when they dropped six of their first seven starts, Southworth's gang has rallied strongly to become a most important factor in the race. Only one game separates the first four teams in the National which now appears assured of a wide open battle down to the wire. Even Chicago in last place is only 9 games back as compared to the 17½-game spread from eighth to first in the American.

Cubs Halt Giants

Ralph Hamner, a non-winner until yesterday, dropped New York out of the lead when he pitched the Chicago Cubs to a 3-1 victory. Allowing only six hits, three by Whitey Lockman, Hamner outpitched loser Andy Hansen.

Cincinnati's prize rookie, Herman Wehmeier, chalked up his fifth straight success with a five-hit job against Philadelphia, 12-1. Johnny Wyrostek led the 15-hit spree against his old teammates with two homers, a double and single.

Leo Durocher was banished by Umpire Al Barlick before the ball game started in Pittsburgh but the Brooklyn Dodgers, nevertheless, went 13 innings to trim the Pirates, 3-2.

Cleveland drew first blood in its important four-game series with the New York Yankees by clubbing the world champs, 10-8, before 67,924 Yankee stadium customers. The game was enlivened by a five-minute barrage of beer cans, rubber balls and paper cartons when Umpire Cal Hubbard banished catcher Yogi Berra in the fourth inning.

Feller In Relief

Bobby Feller came out of the bullpen to turn back a Yankee threat in the last of the ninth after Joe DiMaggio hit his 11th homer.

Williams was the big gun for the surging Red Sox who have won seven of their last eight games. Ted doubled three times, driving in a pair with each blow, and received credit for a seventh RBI when he was walked with the bases loaded. Jack Kramer lasted all the way, although yielding 10 White Sox hits, to decision Frank Papish.

Philadelphia playing at home, moved ahead of the Yankees into second place, three games behind Cleveland, by a 6-5 shade over St. Louis.

Art Houtteman finally broke into the win circle as a relief pitcher after eight straight defeats when Detroit nosed out Washington, 7-6, in 10 innings in the capital. Pat Mullin's triple and Houtteman's single with two out cost Milo Candini his first loss.

NED LINTA IS ELECTED COACH

Ned Linta, former Steelton high school and Gettysburg college football star, has been elected as physical education teacher and basketball coach at Duncannon High school.

Linta, who was graduated from Gettysburg earlier this month, succeeds Johnny Buttsavage, who next year will be basketball coach at Middletown high school.

At Steelton, Linta was regarded by his coach, Charlie Hoy, as one of the finest quarterbacks the Steamroller had in some years. He then moved to Gettysburg college, where he played blocking back for Hen Bream's teams for three years before going into the service.

During the war Ned coached an Air Force team overseas and was recreational officer at several camps in the United States.

He has enrolled at Columbia University where this summer he will start work on his master's degree. On June 27 he will be married to Miss Shirley Lawver, of Biglerville.

Eastern League

(By The Associated Press)

The Williamsport Tigers, who took the Eastern baseball league lead with the assistance of Wilkes-Barre, increased their advantage last night at the expense of the same hapless Barons.

While the second-place Scranton Miners were rained out of their contest with Elmira, the Tigers beat the Barons 10-4 at Williamsport.

The Albany Senators trounced the Binghamton Triplets 11-0 in a seven-inning opener and 5-4 in a 12-inning nightcap and the Hartford Chiefs nosed out the Blue Sox, 9-8.

Tonight's schedule: (Eastern Standard Time) Albany at Utica 2 p.m., Scranton at Williamsport, 7 p.m., Hartford at Binghamton 7 p.m. Only games scheduled.

YORK STOPPED BY WILMINGTON

(By The Associated Press)

Wilmington turned back York's bid to take over the Interstate league lead last night by crushing the White Roses 11 to 3 in the opener of a four game series.

Lefty Bill George scattered 10 York hits to end a White Rose nine game winning streak and increase Wilmington's first place edge to a game and a half. Wilmington pounded Pat McCullough and George Loveness for 15 hits, including a pair of triples by Rudy Rufer and doubles by Jesse Levan and Jack Lorenz.

Third place Trenton fell three and a half games off the pace as Hagerstown came up with three runs in the eighth inning to win a 6 to 3 verdict. The defeat snapped Trenton's four game winning streak. Four errors led to three unearned Hagerstown runs and sent big Hugh Oser to his third setback against two wins.

Catcher Dave Abramson's single with the bases loaded in the 10th inning game Allentown a 5 to 4 decision over fourth place Sunbury. The winning hit came off Ed Lyons, who relieved in the seventh after starting Pitcher Tom West was ejected from the game by Umpire Fred Farrow for protesting too vigorously.

Lancaster's losing streak reached four straight as Harrisburg won 6 to 4.

Today's schedule: Harrisburg at Lancaster, Hagerstown at Trenton, Sunbury at Allentown and York at Wilmington.

270 ATHLETES AT HARRISBURG

Harrisburg, June 12 (P) — A bright field of Olympic prospects unlimbered for the 43rd running of the Middle Atlantic track and field meet here today.

The list of contestants jumped to an all-time record of 270 with the last-minute entry of Ben Wright, Chester high sophomore, who ran the 100-yard dash in 9.7 seconds.

Wright, who bettered the University of Pennsylvania invitation meet mark by 3/10ths of a second, is a formidable opponent for Barney Ewell in the 100-meter event. The former Penn State star was expected to have had that event to himself until Wright's entry.

Ewell must also look to his 200-meter laurels with the entry of George Guida, Villanova star and National AAU indoor 600-yard champion for the last two years.

Another big race of the day is the 1500-meter event featured by the appearance of Gerry Karver, Penn State luminary who has a burning ambition to beat flying Gil Dodds in the National AAU meet at Milwaukee July 3-5.

Will the souther socker from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., lose out once more in his quest for the most coveted links crown of them all.

The final 36 holes of the big fairway derby got under way today and the questions were expected to be answered about the time dusk began setting in on the Riviera course. Barring a 72-hole tie, that is.

Slammin' Sam, one of the longest hitters in the game, a drawing, superbly-conditioned athlete, held a one stroke lead as he teed off for the third round. His 138 for 36 holes was compiled with a pair of 69s. He was three under par for the distance. The 720-yard long layout plays to a standard 71.

Treading on his heels were the tournament favorite and PGA champion, Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., and Bobby Locke of Johannesburg, South Africa. Their 139s armed each with a formidable scoring weapon. Hogan, first round co-leader with a 67, found his putter misfiring yesterday and took a 72. Locke improved his position with a 69, one under his previous round.

Bendersville snapped the seven-game winning streak of Littlestown in the Adams County Baseball league by scoring a 3-0 victory Friday evening at Bendersville in a playoff of a postponed game.

The victory elevated the fast stepping Bendersville team into undisputed possession of second place.

Junior Walters and Marshall Koontz formed the winning battery. Walters permitted but three hits and was given fine fielding support by his team-mates. One of the prettiest plays of the game was made by Rice, center fielder, who snared a long fly and then threw out a Littlestown runner attempting to go to second base.

Bendersville tabbed a run in the first inning and added two in the fourth. Swartz and Johnny Withrow divided the pitching for Littlestown.

Sports Roundup

(By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.)

New York, June 12 (P) — Officials of the strictly Professional Basketball Association of America are somewhat perturbed because their athletes want to play for money this summer. . . That's not quite as silly at it sounds. . . Seems the players are being approached to play in the "Borscht circuit" — the Catskill mountain summer hotels that feature basketball to entertain their guests. . . The club owners shudder at the possibility of an $8,000 a season player getting a busted leg or shoulder separation playing on an outdoor court for maybe $100 a week and they're not sure from the wording of their own contracts they can forbid such activity. . . Another angle is that most of the players are college boy-waiters and bellhops, presumably playing just for fun. . . Their eligibility might be tainted by mingling with the pros and the BAA, like the pro football leagues and unlike baseball, wants to remain on the best of terms with the colleges.

Rocky Graziano spent part of the afternoon before his latest battle with Tony Zale answering the phone in the tournament of champions office. . . He did it so well the "seven Angels" may give him the job permanently. . . Don't be surprised if this new promotion group lines up Ray Robinson for its next show — which won't be held in Newark. . . After losing to Lafayette in the final of the District Two college baseball playoff, the navy players set out by air to catch up with their classmates on the summer cruise.

London, June 12 (P) — A couple of veteran court women, Mrs. Jean Bostock and Mrs. Molly Blair, revived sagging British tennis hopes by capturing a doubles clash with the Americans in the opening of the Wightman cup tennis matches. But even with the unexpected triumph — the first match won by the hostesses since 1939 — the British were not expected to regain the trophy in the concluding four matches today at Wimbledon.

FLOODS PERIL OREGON PLANTS

Portland, Ore., June 12 (P) — The raging Columbia river rose up today in renewed threat to three industrial areas in the Pacific northwest.

President Truman viewed the devastated American flood zone of Oregon and Washington yesterday as these high spots were developing in the three-week battle against the Columbia and Fraser rivers, worst rampage in the U.S. and Canada.

1 — Water from the Columbia lapped at a secondary dike protecting a $43,000,000 aluminum plant east of Portland in Oregon. Soggy levees remained critical along the 100-mile industrial and farming belt from Portland to the Pacific in Oregon and Washington.

2 — The Columbia cracked sagging defenses on its Canadian headwaters near the half-flooded smelter city of Trail in British Columbia. One hundred summer homes were washed away. Levee leakage into the city increased.

3 — U.S. army engineers said Columbia dikes were in critical condition at Richland, near the huge Hanford atomic energy works in Washington. The plant itself was not in danger but the engineers said they were ready to evacuate workers from their Richland homes if

SO PLEASANT

Pleasant people are such an asset to this world! When you go into a store and are waited upon by a pleasant clerk, the purchase gains an added value when that clerk is pleasant and cheerful. I have often walked out of a store where the clerk was indifferent and not interested in my wants.

In a New England cemetery is a small grave of a young girl, and under the name engraved upon the small stone are these words: "She was so pleasant." What an epitaph—so full of meaning, so inspiring! I am sure that all the friends of this young girl must have remembered her for a long, long time, and missed her when she went to her long sleep.

We all like to meet pleasant people. They leave a glow in the heart that remains as an uplift when we have left them. The salesman appreciates this quality in the ones he may contact; so does his prospective client appreciate it in him. People like to do business with the pleasant salesman.

We tie to our pleasant friends. They are spiritual manna to us all. The pleasant personalities are welcomed everywhere. They are the salt of the earth, as well, and they make life more worth while for us all. We all often go out of our way to meet such people and to do business with them.

One of the main reasons why I selected my little summer island home in Nova Scotia was because the people were so pleasant upon my first visit there. All Canadians are noted for their cordiality, hospitality and pleasantness. I believe that vacationists have always found this to be true. It's great to have such a neighbor and friend!

One of the finest compliments I have ever received about my office was made by the late Frank Bacon, the famous actor in "Lightnin'." He told me that mine was the pleasantest office that he had ever been in! That is one of the reasons why I have been so happy during my business life.

It costs nothing to be pleasant—but what dividends in happiness it pays! It pays dividends in many another way, too. I have heard it said if a person will only be pleasant for the first two hours of the day, the entire day will be a great success!

Just Folks

NOISE-MAKERS
Noisy? Yes, of course they are.
Little girls and little boys
In and out will race about,
Manufacturers of noise.
But at times when they are ill
And in bed must long remain,
Feverish and, oh, so still!
You will pray for noise again.

Yes, they bring their playmates in:
Beg for cookies, one and all;
Race the stairs and jump on chairs;
Strew their toys about the hall,
But if they from home should stray,
Seemingly afraid of you,
You would want them back to play,
And you'd want their comrades, too.

Troublesome at times are they,
But the happiest homes are those
Filled with noise and strewn with toys,
Where the doorways never close.
Should my children stay away,
Happier elsewhere to be,
I am sure that God will say
I had failed His trust in me.

Just For A Change

We've so often discussed the matter of loose engine mountings as the cause of gears slipping out of mesh you'll be glad to have a slightly different slant on the subject for a change. This time I'll be a little more basic by mentioning the fact that in many cases where cars have seen a lot of service the self-demeshing is due entirely to wear on the gears themselves. This is certain to be the case if the wear is the normal tooth taper which comes from old age. Another cause of gear jumping concerns wear on those little notches into which the shift locks (detents) slip when the shifter rails are moved for the various gear positions. If the rails cannot be replaced then try cutting the notches a little deeper and replacing the detents.

As Simple As That

On cars which are started by pressing the accelerator pedal many drivers have been puzzled by having the engine refuse to be cranked after it has started normally and then stalled. Since this starting arrangement involves use of a vacuum switch and a solenoid the tendency is to go off the deep end and get into a lot of difficulty trying to readjust these controls. But it's much more simple than that. I've checked into some of these cases and find that the accelerator pedal itself is to blame. It just fails to return to the starting point. Rust on its hinge will do this. Or perhaps the throttle return spring is weak. All the driver has to do in a situation like this is to pull up on the tip of the accelerator until it is fully "off." Then when he presses down on it again the motor cranks.

Thoughts While Driving

What an excellent opportunity this is for seeing how that new car ad is taking these rough roads. Does its steering wheel shake when the front wheels hit the holes? How does that rear seat passenger ride? That fellow about to change a tire seems to be making a most serious mistake. He's jacking up the wheel before removing the spare tire. Chances are he'll disturb the car and it may topple off the jack.

If you slouch in the driving seat when on a trip you may need to readjust the position of the outside rear view mirror, otherwise you won't be able to see cars just about to overtake you—the one driven by a highway police officer, for instance.

Mechanic Joe Speaking

"Owners of cars with automatic overdrive sometimes find that the transmission fails to cut back into a lower gear unless they stop the car and start over again. This always suggests a serious condition yet usually it is extremely simple.

"The stock reason for the situation is simply that the solenoid relay control of the overdrive unit has blown a fuse. Incidentally, some of the trouble motorists are having with vacuum controls for gear shifting is due entirely to need for cleaning the air vents. The controls just can't work because they can't breathe."

One For The Book

Now that warm days are here again you may some time be puzzled by a whistling or a groaning noise under the hood. But don't be mystified. It probably is pressure escaping from the partially sealed cooling system. If the engine idles for long periods in traffic jams pressure may build up to just under the release point of from 4 to 6 pounds, just enough to force the valve of the pressure cap to open a little. If it opened wide you wouldn't get the peculiar noise, just the normal gush of escaping steam.

Saves Falling Out

One of my friends decided that it was somewhat dangerous to have the doors opened by pressing down on the inside door handle. To obviate any possibility of his young son accidentally opening a door by leaning against the handle he simply reversed the arrangements and fixed the handle so that it now has to be pulled up to open the door. Apparently he was not alone in thinking up this little precaution. I note the same arrangement on one of the latest of the quality cars.

Together For Safety

Just as I started to pass around a parked car one of the neighborhood youngsters strolled directly into my path. Having seen the lad a few moments earlier I wasn't at all surprised, and slowed down accordingly. Approaching, however, came a car at too much speed for the occasion. Its driver—a woman—was plainly figuring on my making a quick circuit around the parked car in time to allow her to proceed without slowing down. Sensing that she did not see the child because she was too close for the low seat and the long hood of her car I got my car into such a position that she was forced to stop. This is what I have frequently referred to as teamwork. If I had stayed back she might have accidentally run down the child.

VIOLATIONS OF TRUCE CHARGED BY BOTH SIDES

By MAX BOYD

Cairo, June 12 (AP)—The United Nations mediator for Palestine left today en route to his new headquarters on the Greek Island of Rhodes while Jews and Arabs traded charges of truce violations in the Holy Land.

The mediator, Counte Folke Bernadotte, of Sweden, said the charges were being investigated. A high Jewish official held out a veiled threat of reprisal bombings against Arab capitals as he accused the Arabs of breaking the truce.

Bernadotte told reporters Swedish and American military observers had arrived in the Holy Land and gone to the scenes of reported truce infractions. He had no reports from them yet. He explained that communications were poor between Cairo and Palestine.

The truce, to last four weeks, began yesterday morning. It was arranged to give Bernadotte a chance to negotiate for permanent peace in the Holy Land.

Both Issue Warnings
Israel, the Jewish state proclaimed when Britain gave up her rule over Palestine May 15, since then has been fighting with invasion armies of six Arab countries, helped by Palestine Arabs.

Before Bernadotte's departure, he was handed a note from the Arab representative here. It said their countries cannot "tolerate Jewish violations of the truce" and warned that if such continue, "the Arabs will lose their patience."

The note was drafted shortly after midnight at a meeting called by Secretary-General Abdel Rahman Azam Pasha of the Arab league.

The chief of operations of the Jewish high command said in Tel Aviv last night Arabs had violated the truce on the northern, central and southern fronts. He warned that the Israel army might strike back to regain any ground the Arabs took.

A similar threat was implied by the unified Arab high command yesterday. An order sent out from Amman, Trans-Jordan, to Arab forces told them to cease fire "unless attacked."

GROSS FAVORS DP'S
Washington, June 12 (AP)—Twenty-five of Pennsylvania's 28 Republican representatives and five Democrats voted in favor of a bill to admit 202,000 displaced persons to the United States. The House approved the bill. (Congressman Gross voted "yes.") then difficult to mesh with the idle gears on the mainshaft. This dragging may be due to incorrect adjustment of the clutch or, as is frequently the situation, to oil on the plates. This oil works through from the engine, past the rear main bearing and its retainer.

Punctures Prevented
Some day when time hangs heavy get out the jack and, raising one wheel at a time, pry out some of the embedded glass, tacks, nails and wire you'll find in the tire treads. A surprising amount of tire trouble can be headed off in this way. If these sharp objects are left in the tires the chances are that sooner or later some rough going will cause them to be pounded through to the inner tubes. This is one reason why punctures so often occur after the car has been driven over rough roads.

Having Their Troubles
Q. Should the clutch be washed out with kerosene if it gets to grabbing? A friend of mine tells me this is a good idea and that it won't do any harm. H. McB.

A. This is not recommended. One exception is the case of a car which has plates with cork inserts, but even here it is necessary to use a special flushing oil. This particular clutch runs in oil. The rest are dry. I am, of course, excluding fluid drives.

Q. Why doesn't my new car have a place for a hand crank? How can I adjust valves or ignition without cranking? W. L. K.

A. You couldn't hand crank a modern high compression engine, so the crank handle isn't necessary. For engine adjustments mechanics either use the starter-motor or jack up a rear wheel, place the car in gear and turn the wheel. The spark plugs should, of course, be removed. Sometimes he will turn the engine a fraction of a rotation by pulling on the fan belt.

Q. I am troubled by having the engine run out of gas whenever the gauge reads around one-quarter full. I do not think that the gauge is inaccurate because it seems to register properly otherwise. Several times I have run out of gas because of this. What's wrong? D. W.

A. You'll probably find that the gas tank has had a bad dent in the bottom. This holds the float up when the gas level is very low.

Q. My car is an old one with simple manual control of the starting mechanism, yet recently it has developed the habit of spinning along with the motor. J. N. McB.

A. The manual shift mechanism probably is binding.

SENATE BACKS VANDENBERG ON FOREIGN POLICY

Washington, June 12 (AP)—The American government was expected today to expand its foreign aid objectives to include military aid to a western European defense organization which this country might eventually join.

That appeared to be the first major product likely to come from the Senate's overwhelming 64 to 4 approval yesterday of a far-reaching foreign policy resolution offered by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.).

Passage of that resolution served notice on the world that the treaty-making chamber favors U. S. participation in regional defense organizations set up to carry out the peace aims of the United Nations.

"New Hope For Peace"
By its vote, Vandenberg said, the Senate clearly set forth "America's role in collective peace." It offers "new hope for peace and security," he said, not by "automatic military alliances," but by a "plan for our practical American cooperation, under specified circumstances, within

Stressing the peace objectives of the policy statement, Vandenberg said the Senate action would serve as a warning to any "possible aggressor who might sneer at any arguments save those of force."

Vandenberg's resolution, drafted with state department approval, has no binding effect. A somewhat similar measure has been introduced in the House which would be law if passed by both houses and signed by the President.

No Charges Yet In Soldier's Shooting

Nuernberg, Germany, June 12 (AP)—A week after the shooting of Pvt. Ralph J. Light, of Myerstown, Pa., no charges had been filed today against the lieutenant who, army officials said, fired the fatal shots.

The provost marshal's office said the shooting occurred June 5 after Light insulted and slapped the lieutenant's wife, then slapped the lieutenant.

The lieutenant's commanding officer said he was awaiting the report of the criminal investigation division before preferring court martial charges.

"Until that investigation is completed, I cannot determine the degree of culpability," he said. Meanwhile, the lieutenant is free on his own recognizance.

Buoyant answer to Back Road and Boulevard

White side-wall tires, as illustrated, available at extra cost.

REMEMBER that rough patch of road up yonder where the ruts and ridges make a washboard seem smooth?

Recall the tiring tenseness brought on by the drum and hum of road noise and tremor even over smooth concrete highways?

Well, clock away the miles in this stunningly styled Buick — and meet up with the sweetest answer to such matters this side of cloud cruising.

"It's a ride that's soft and smooth as velvet," folks tell us. And we tell them it comes from a host of things.

It comes from the ample road-weight of a two-ton car built low and wide — and so beautifully balanced it handles light as a baton.

It comes from the leveling buoyancy of Buick's all-coil springing which puts a pillow of deeply coiled steel at each wheel to soak up the bumps and ripples.

It comes from the softness of bigger, lower-pressure tires that cushion away road tremors and roughness — from the sure-footed, swerve-free steadiness of Buick's extra wide Safety-Ride rims, widest in the industry.

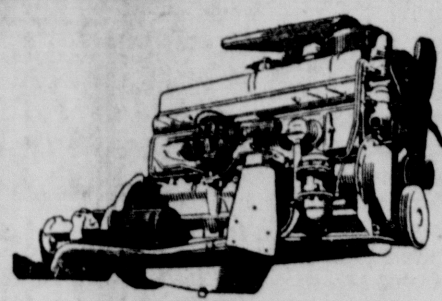

And it comes in special measure from a brand-new engineering gem we call Vibra-Shielding which banishes vibration build-up.

Here for the first time you're freed from the motoring fatigue brought on by tiny tremors piling up into bigger ones. Here your miles are made moss-smooth and quiet — long journeys become mere jaunts.

So why delay knowing the most buoyant answer to any road you ever traveled?

Come visit us now. Know at first hand the distinctive styling, the flashing action, the velvety ride over highway and byway that are Buick's and Buick's alone.

Then follow your heart's desire and get your order in promptly. We'll take it in proper sequence whether or not you have a car to trade.

REASON FOR THE VIBRA-SHIELDED RIDE

Placed with scientific exactness, 3 fat cushions of special composition cradle the engine so as to control its vibration frequency. Engine vibration is thus kept "out of tune" with those that might come from other parts of the car. The result is to shield car occupants against jarring pulsations, cut road noise, make engine sensation almost imperceptible and motor practically fatigue-free.

BUICK alone has all these features

- ★ DYNAFLOW DRIVE (Optional, Roadmaster Series)
- ★ TAPER-THRU STYLING (Super and Roadmaster)
- ★ VIBRA-SHIELDED RIDE ★ SAFETY-RIDE RIMS

SEEK CAUSE OF FATAL ACCIDENT

Laurel, Md., June 12 (AP)—Railroad inspectors are trying to find out today why four cars of the Baltimore and Ohio's Diplomat left the rails on a curve here, killing one person and injuring at least 46 others.

They combed the debris along the main line right-of-way beside the Laurel race track and interviewed witnesses. The B & O announced a track crew had been working on the rails in the area.

Eastbound traffic on the line was tied up for more than seven hours after the wreck Thursday.

The locomotive and four cars of the Diplomat — en route from St. Louis to New York — stayed on the track.

Westbound local 509 was passing on an adjoining track as the express got into difficulty. Its Diesel engine caught fire after it hit one of the twisted rails. The 509 was en route to Washington.

John Davenport, 51, of Asbury, N. J., a dining car employe aboard the Diplomat, was crushed to death when he jumped out a window and was trapped under the side of the car.

Most of those hurt were in the diner and a coach next to it. The cars bumped along the ties about 100 yards then bounced on their sides.

East Berlin

East Berlin—Mr. and Mrs. George E. Mummert, Abbottstown street, have had carpenters enclose the front porch at their home during the past week.

Walter F. Resser, York, a native of East Berlin, visited during the week with his relatives, Mrs. Daisy Resser and Miss Ethel Resser.

Mrs. Mary Walter Sarbaugh and sister, Miss Julia Walter, Hanover, formerly of here, visited friends in this section on Saturday.

The two-day public sale of real estate and personal effects of the late Latimer Trostle was well attended last Friday and Saturday.

The place, including a large frame house and outbuildings, and three lots, was bought for $5,075 by Hays M. Hankey, Dover township, a former resident of town. Charles Lau purchased Mr. Trostle's Paradise township woodlot for $370.

Mrs. Earl Reiber, Harrisburg, spent Saturday at the home of her sister and niece, Mrs. Curtis W. Deatrick and Miss Ruth A. Deatrick, Route 2. Another relative, Mrs. Bruce Rea, has returned to Scranton after spending a few days at the Deatrick home.

Orville J. Zeigler, who recently sold his west end property to Harry Nell, has purchased a piece of land at the east end and is planning to build a new home for his family there.

The East Berlin hotel building at the square was improved by a painting job during the week.

Mr. and Mrs. John Masemore, York, visited in this area over the week-end.

The lot on York street formerly owned by Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Myers who moved from here last year to Silver Run, Md., has been purchased by their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Emory W. Sell, Jr., who recently sold their present home south of town and who are planning to build on the new property.

Mrs. J. Calvin Lerew is able to be about after a recent illness that had confined her to bed for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Krenzer and daughter, Patsy, Hanover, were visitors during the week to relatives here. Mrs. Krenzer is the former Miss Pauline Grove, daughter of Jacob D. Grove.

Miss Gloria M. Alland, bookkeeper at the People's State bank, was a visitor during the past week to the Merchant Marine academy, Kings Point, L. I., N. Y., where her fiancé, Donald Geiselman, Hanover, has been a student for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shultz and family, who formerly resided in Reading township, west of town and later in Littlestown, are now occupying their newly-built home near the Paradise Rectory.

Mrs. Emanuel Baker, who has been seriously ill for more than a week at her home near Mummert's Meeting House, is reported somewhat improved and was able to sit in a chair for a short period during the week. Mrs. Baker recently suffered a light stroke.

Find My Killer

By MANLY WELLMAN

Chapter 3

I slid past him and into the house, very official.

"More investigation?" he asked, following me.

"Just routine," I soothed him. "I want to see the place where Mr. Ealing died. Just tell me where it is, and keep watch by this door, Mr.—"

"Kuhl, James Kuhl. I'm a lawyer. Diane—Mrs. Ealing asked me to come and help out. Mr. Ealing was found dead in his gun room, to the left there."

"Who's here besides yourself and Mrs. Ealing?"

"Two servants in the kitchen."

"Thanks," I said and walked back through the house. In the kitchen I found a pudgy man and a portly woman, both past middle age. "Police checkup," I told them, and they said they were the yard man and housekeeper. Mr. and Mrs. William Pettigrew. The man had a mitten of bandage on his right hand and I wondered about it but took no time to ask. I wanted to get to the gun room and stepped back into the hall. I found the door, a heavy one that opened inward. Its lock was smashed loose. Somebody had kicked the door open.

I went in. There was dark brown carpeting on the floor and in the center showed a big smear of dried blood. The place was full of guns—modern ones crossed or slanted on the wall to make a show.

Then there was a fine old mahogany desk, fitted up with two vases and a tool rack to make it into a work bench. Near it, at the edge of the brown carpet, stood a tightly made wooden box full of waste, the setup a ballistics expert rigs up to catch fired bullets in for special examination. I dipped into the drawers of the desk.

"What do you think you're looking for?" asked a sweet, deadly voice behind me.

I looked around.

In the doorway stood a woman of thirty or so, with sorrel hair and steady, slanting green eyes. She wore a blue negligee that showed off her tallish, trim figure in a way that ordinarily would bring a whistle. But I didn't give way to admiration.

For in her hand she held a shiny gun, no longer than her forefinger.

"I understand," she said, "that you told the servants you were a police detective. That is a lie. I know all the men of the homicide detail. They were good friends of my husband."

So she was Diane Ealing.

"Stand easy there, faker," said James Kuhl's voice over her shoulder. "Give me the gun, Diane."

He took it. "Hands up," he said to me.

Remembering the hole in Ealing's body, I lifted my hands.

"Diane," he said, "call the police."

She started to go, but I called: "Wait!"

Her green eyes turned back. "Wait for what?"

"I won't stay here to be arrested."

I said, "I'm going, very quietly. If you shoot me, it will be the second shooting in this room and the cops will think that borders on the peculiar."

They stood looking. I lowered one hand and pointed to the gun Kuhl held. "The second shooting," I elaborated, "with that kind of a gun."

It was just the sort of artillery that must have killed Ealing.

Kuhl and Diane Ealing looked at each other.

"Jim," said Diane Ealing, turning to Kuhl. She was white, and looked sick enough to drop. "Get him out of here."

I went. At the front door he tapped my shoulder with the nose of the derringer.

"Turn around."

I turned. He switched the gun to his left hand, and belted me with his right.

I couldn't quite slip inside the punch. His knuckles, shooting for my jaw, caught me on the left eye.

"That's a souvenir. Now march. Don't come back."

I couldn't argue against the deringer.

J. D. sat in the car. When she saw me, her two-tone eyes lighted up and she smiled happily.

"Who hit you?" she squealed.

I touched my swelling eye. "That man Kuhl."

"Get in," she said, "and tell me who has charge of reservations."

Gerald, son of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Myers, near town, who has been under medical care, is reported somewhat improved. The child is a pupil at Green Ridge Schoolhouse, this section.

The Rev. Robert D. Hartnett, pastor of the Immaculate Conception Catholic church, was away several days this week on his annual retreat.

David E. Winebrenner, Jr., Hanover, has been a patient at the Hanover hospital. David E. Winebrenner, 3rd, resides in New Oxford with his family.

Mrs. Robert E. Hemminger made a trip to Hanover during the week. The men of the Holy Name society of the Immaculate Conception parish will receive Holy Communion in a body Sunday morning at the 7:30 mass, and after mass will meet at the parochial hall for the Communion breakfast which has been an annual custom during June for the past few years.

New Oxford

New Oxford—Preparations have been completed for the annual Children's Day exercises to take place Sunday at St. John's church, New Chester. The Rev. Ernest W. Brindle is supply pastor this year.

The St. Vincent de Paul society of Immaculate Conception Catholic church conducted a meeting last Sunday morning. This group of men care for the unfortunate members of the parish and community.

Wayne D. Thomas, Thomasville, who has been a vocal student of Mrs. George W. Dunstan, Route 2, for some time, is preparing to present a baritone recital at a Spring Grove church the last Sunday of June, under the auspices of the Women's Guild of the church.

Members of the National Council of Catholic Women of Immaculate Conception parish who intend attending the convention of their organization at McSherrystown on Thursday, June 24, have been asked to inform Mrs. Raphael H. Smith,

FEPC BATTLE IS RENEWED

Harrisburg, June 12 (AP)—A single state-wide organization set out today to campaign for legislation in Pennsylvania barring discrimination in jobs because of race, color or creed.

The new organization, the state Council for Pennsylvania Fair Employment Practices, was formed here yesterday at an all-day conference of representatives of labor, fraternal, civic, church and veterans' organizations.

The FEPC issue was bitterly fought in the 1947 legislature without action.

The first step in the new campaign will be an educational program at the local level on reasons for a fair employment practices commission in the state. Pledges from candidates for the legislature will also be sought.

Dr. Frank S. Loescher, Philadelphia, member of the American Friends Service committee, who acted as temporary chairman, told more than 60 delegates that the situation presents "a very real problem."

In addition to the American Friends Service committee, organizations represented in the council include the Catholic Interracial Council, American Jewish congress, American Veterans committee, Pennsylvania Council of Church Women, CIO-Pennsylvania Industrial Union Council, AFL-American Federation of Teachers and the National Association for the Advancement of colored people.

Dr. Stokes came from the back of the house, with a silk robe over shirt and trousers. He looked remarkably cordial for a man just routed out of the blankets.

"What do you want from me young lady," he asked, when we were all seated. "This Ealing matter is taking up most of my day as it is. I'm to testify at the inquest. You know I was present when the body was found."

"That was tragic," said J. D. "For you I mean. You were his best friend, I believe."

"For ten years. We met when I was treating his Uncle Gwynne. Alchisiz brought in coffee and Dr. Stokes filled cups for us. 'Gwynne Ealing was incurably ill. Dick was his only kinsman, and spent lots of time with him. Dick and I got close, and we stayed close.'

"Gwynne Ealing died about four years ago, as I remember," said J. D. "Right, just before Dick married Diane McKay."

"Tell me about the suicide," J. D. said.

The doctor cleared his throat. "Night before last — not night, really, it wasn't five o'clock yet — I stopped by because Dick's yard man had cut his hand. I bandaged him, and asked for Dick. Diane — Mrs. Ealing — said he was in his gun room. She was making cocktails. We drank one, and Dick didn't show up. His voice shook a little, and he licked his lips. 'We asked Mrs. Pettigrew to call him. She hurried back and told us that the door to the gun room was locked, and no sound from inside. And Dick wouldn't answer her knock.'

He stopped and drank coffee. "Go on," said J. D.

"Diane was frightened. I called Pettigrew and we both went to the gun room door. It was locked. We both shoved on the door until the lock gave. Inside lay Dick. Dead. I wouldn't let Pettigrew touch him."

"The others saw the body?" J. D. prompted.

Dr. Stokes nodded. "Diane was just behind us. She almost collapsed. I made Mrs. Pettigrew take her up to her room and then I telephoned the police."

"Thank you, Doctor," said J. D. "with her Number One smile. 'It's good of you to talk to us so frankly, and so early in the morning. We'll go now. See you at the inquest.'

SEE HARMONY IN P. A. DELEGATION

Harrisburg, June 12 (AP)—Pennsylvania's national committeeman looks for "peace and harmony" to prevail in the Keystone state's big delegation to the GOP national convention despite reports of friction.

"Certainly, nothing can be gained by Pennsylvania Republicans fighting Pennsylvania Republicans," said G. Mason Owlett, who is also president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers association.

Owlett said he felt that the unpended delegation of 73 members "will all realize their tremendous responsibility and exercise their duties with integrity and foresight."

Along the same line, U. S. Senator Edward Martin—endorsed as the delegation's "favorite son" candidate for the Presidential nomination—said at Washington he "did not believe there is any serious friction in the ranks of the Pennsylvania Republicans."

Their comments were prompted by a story in the Philadelphia Inquirer quoting Governor James H. Duff as saying he would "fight to the limit" any move to undermine his plan to keep the delegation unpended until convention time.

Duff, who will head the Pennsylvania delegation at the Philadelphia conclave, refused flatly to comment on the Inquirer story.

York Springs

York Springs — The local Girl Scout troop were hostesses to their parents during the past week at a covered dish supper served at the Sunday school rooms of the York Springs Lutheran church.

Miss Phyllis Hershey, a recent graduate of the Mechanicsburg high school, is preparing to leave shortly for New York where she has spent recent summers in studying for a dancing career. Miss Hershey, a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Quincy W. Hershey, was a recent guest of local relatives, as were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Baird Hershey.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar J. Smith, near town, had as recent house guests their daughter, Mrs. Robert Hall, with Mr. Hall, Prince Frederick, Md.

Mrs. Mark Bream was hostess during the past week at a meeting of the young people of the local Church of God of which the Rev. Donald G. Roemer is pastor.

The Willing Workers' organization of the local Lutheran church sponsored a refreshment sale at which baked goods were featured on Saturday at the church property. The sale was for the benefit of the "new carpet fund" for the church.

Children of the Lutheran Sunday school are rehearsing for their annual Children's Day exercises which are scheduled for Sunday, June 20. The public is welcome to attend this program.

Some will never learn anything because they understand everything too soon.

CHURCH TO GET ONE RED ROSE

Lancaster, Pa., June 12 (AP)—One red rose — the annual rental price for the ground on which stands the Zion Evangelical Lutheran church, Manheim, will be paid tomorrow at material and lay delegates in the synod, including those from 80 Maryland churches.

GOP PLATFORM TAKING SHAPE

Washington, June 12 (AP)—The congressional record Republicans will carry into the presidential campaign began to take on final form today.

Barring last-hour changes, it appears to be pointing toward a platform built on:

Foreign — European recovery help at a $5,000,000,000 clip for the first year ($4,000,000,000 in appropriations and $1,000,000,000 in export-import loans). Admission of 200,000 displaced persons from Europe.

An implied promise of American military help for non-Communist nations and a one-year extension of the reciprocal trade program.

Military — A two year draft on men from 19 through 25 and a super-duper air force.

Domestic — Tax reduction, farm price supports and housing aids.

Unless they can pass a miracle, the Republicans seem likely to go into their June 21 convention without having done anything final on (1) Civil rights; (2) Federal aid to education; (3) The Mundt-Nixon anti-Communist bill; (4) The oleo tax repealer; (5) The measure giving states title to oil rich tidelands and (6) An equal rights for women proposal.

The Democrats are expected to bear down hard on their platform on such things as inflation controls, a minimum wage boost, social security expansion and aid to education.

Most Of Church Approves Merger

Frederick, Md., June 12 (AP)—More than two-thirds of the Evangelical and Reformed churches of the Potomac synod have approved a proposal to unite with the Congregational Christian church, delegates to the ninth annual session of the synod were informed Thursday.

The vote was announced at a business meeting. It represented more than the required majority.

The various Congregational Christian churches which now must act upon the proposal are to meet later this month in Oberlin, O.

Opening speaker for the synod's two-day meeting was the Rev. Gottlieb Siegenthaler, of Baltimore. The session is being attended by minis-

SAYS DEGAULLE NOT GOING TO BE A DICTATOR

By RELMAN MORIN
(AP Foreign Analyst)

For the first time in their mutually acrimonious history, Gen. Charles DeGaulle and the French Communists are political bed fellows today.

Neither DeGaulle nor the Communists approve of the plan to unify western Germany.

The general's political party, the French People's Rally, is the strongest opponent of Communism in France. Vice versa, DeGaulle is the man whom the Reds hope is least likely to succeed.

Nevertheless, and, for totally different reasons, they find themselves lined up together today on the German issue. Together, they may be strong enough to bring about the dissolution of parliament and to cause a general election and a new government.

And so the question again arises in the minds of millions of people, on both sides of the Atlantic: Is Charles DeGaulle another dictator-in-the-making?

The answer, I believe, is "no." And I would hasten to emphasize that that is a strictly personal opinion, not shared by all the correspondents who watched him, during the war, and came to know him.

DeGaulle is an odd combination of a soldier, a mystic, a college professor, a technician, a historian and an idealist. What he is not is a politician, meaning a man who understands and practices the art and strategy of maneuvering his way

TRUMAN TALKS ABOUT STALIN

Aboard Truman Train En Route to Berkeley, Calif., June 12 (AP) — President Truman contended today that Russian forces stronger than "Old Joe" Stalin are preventing the Soviet premier from keeping agreements vital to world peace.

In the chatty tone of a man passing the time of day with neighbors at the corner drug store, the President said he liked "Old Joe" and gave this personal view of the Russian premier:

"He is a decent fellow. But Joe is a prisoner of the politburo. He can't do what he wants to. He makes agreements. And if he could, he would keep them; but the people who run the government are very specific in saying that he can't keep them."

The President said he would elaborate in a major foreign policy speech at the University of California at Berkeley this afternoon on his hopes for eventual understanding between Russia and the United States. He speaks at commencement exercises at 3:08 p.m., P.S.T. (6:08 p.m., E.S.T.).

The setting for the President's most intimate public appraisal of Stalin was a group of townspeople clustered about the back platform of his private car along the railroad tracks.

TAFT ASSAILS PRES. TRUMAN

Philadelphia, June 12 (AP) — Sen. Robert A. Taft charges President Truman "is blackguarding Congress at every whistle stop in the west" and urged an immediate adjournment of Congress.

"There is little use in keeping Congress in session while President Truman is delivering an attack on the principles of representative government itself," the Ohio Republican said here yesterday.

"We had better adjourn now and appeal to the people in November for a vote of confidence in the election of a president," said the GOP presidential aspirant.

And Taft criticized the administration's "appeasement of Russia on every point since Teheran." The result, he said, is that "Russia, crusading for the theory of Communism, now is placed in a strategic position."

"Our gallivanting President," said Taft, "is making an effort not only to condemn this Congress, but to discredit the institution of Congress." He said Mr. Truman's attack on Congress "gives aid and comfort to those who want to destroy representative government as do the Fascists and every believer in a totalitarian state."

Taft emphasized the need of an administration which believes in law and justice in three speeches—at the Union League, later at the Junior Chamber of Commerce and finally in a radio address.

Philadelphians, June 12 (AP)—A probe of municipal affairs in Philadelphia spread to city bonding practices as Solicitor Frank P. Truscott disclosed the investigation would cover all department heads and employees charged with handling city funds.

The latest action by Truscott came yesterday several hours after Receiver of Taxes W. Frank Marshall, one of the two central figures in the current municipal probe, testified for two and a half hours before the grand jury.

Marshall, whose resignation has been demanded by Republican City Chairman William Meade following disclosure of shortages totaling more than $1,500,000 in his department, declined to discuss his testimony before the jury.

Meanwhile City Council President Frederic D. Garman said the council will meet in special session next Tuesday to confirm the appointment of Assistant City Solicitor Howard E. Stern as acting director of the department of supplies and purchases.

Garman's announcement came on the heels of a letter from Charles H. Grakelov—fired by Mayor Samuel as director of the department—that he intended to seek a court decision on his ouster.

Most of us give advice by the bushel and take it by the grain.

Kenneth Steick, commander, was in charge of the semi-monthly meeting of the Mason and Dixon Memorial Post No. 6954 VFW, in the post home on Tuesday evening. After the official communications were read and disposed of a donation of $5 was voted for the flood relief fund.
